THE Natchez New South, of the tweny-ninth ultimo, has a very eulogistic article in reference to the appointmen of Mr. Merrill, of that city, to the post of minister to Belgium. The New South says: "Mr. Merrill was born in the city of Natchez, in the house now occupied by the Sisters as St. Joseph school, formerly known as 'Burling Hill.' His father, Dr. A. P. Marrill, was well known by our citizens for the special interest he took in the cause of education. His mother was the daughter of James Moore, who more than half a century ago was one of the prominent men of the county, cotemporaneous with the younger days of James C. Wilkins, Stephen Doncan, and the Surgets. Our minister is an alumnus of Harvard, and graduated in the class of 1845. Subsequently he studied law in New Or-leans, and was admitted to the bar. Returning to Natchez he married into one of the wealthiest families, a lovely lady, whom he has survived. Thenceforward he had the means and leisure to give himself up to literature and learning. His wealth and attainments threw him into the association of the most distinguished men of the day. It is sufficient o say that Mr. Merrill's intellectual endowments and polished manners emin-ently fit him for the mission to which he has been appointed." Mr. Merrill's father was for many- years an honored and useful citizen of Memphis. A gentlemsu of high educational and scientific attainments, be endeared himself to our people by an upright and consistent course, and by the application of his great shillties in many useful ways for the tonefit of the community.

Edwin Adams. The sale of choice seats commenced yesterday morning and progressed lively during the day. There seems to be a general desire to see Mr. Adams in the Marble Heart, and those who intend going should visit the box-office to-day, as be appears as "Raphael," in the Marble Heart, on Monday night only. The play is one of great merit, and will attract full houses.

Prof. Levy, the Magician. Prof. Levy, the magician, at Barnaby's, under the Peabody hotel, contin-ues to attract large crowds of visitors every day. His magical bazaar is certainly worthy of a visit from the ladies, will be most charmingly entertained. Prof. Levy is willing to give seances of the most wonderful nature for the benefit of clubs and private parties. Dr. Villers's Matinee.

Dr. J. Jay Villers, the great humorist, having been detained by the storm at Helena, did not reach the city until a late hour last night. In consequence of his detention he did not lecture at the Memphis Theater last night, but will give a humorous matinee at two o'clock this afternoon. The price of admission to the dress circle and parquette will be fifty cents, and children twenty-five cents. We understand that a very large number of the city-school pupils with their teachers will attend this matinee, which will afford unlimited enjoyment, the subject of the lecture being The Funny People We Meet. The Helena World says of his lecture there last Wednesday night: "It is impossible to describe the effect produced by his inmitable personations. The audience followed him with unwearying attention, and frequently attested their appreciation by oursts of laughter and applause. Villers is certainly a genius in his line of entertainment. His feats of ventrilequism were most cleverly performed and elicited hearty applause. number of the people who attended the lecture last night feel a pain in their sides from laushing too much at the fanny things said and done by Dr. Vil-

Mrs. Woodbull's Lecture. To-morrow night Mrs. Victoria C. Woodhull lectures at the Memphis Theater, her subject being "The Human Body, the Temple of God." This subject affords sufficient latitude for Mrs. Woodhull to expound her ideas of society and explain her doctrine, which, by the energy, admirable determination and ceaseless intellect of this strangelygifted woman, is at last receiving from the press of the land that degree of consideration and attention to which its principles, whether true or false, as measured by the human mind, are entitled. That she is pre-eminent above her sex in intellect, and far in advance of the great popular ideas of this age, can-not be doubted; but along the pathway the Memphis Theater to-morrow night | she has been out other minds are trav eling, and this new temple of social reform of hers will soon be reached by many of both sexes who study out and understand the doctrine she teaches with such persistent force, brilliant thought and splendid strength of logic. This is a great thinking age, when practical good is to be judged, not so much by the popularity of the theory in which sults it confers.

The Garry Owen Sunk at New Orleans. NEW ORLEANS, February 4 - During the gale at four o'clock this morning the steamer Garry Owen arrived from Bayou DeGlaige, and in attempting to land she collided with the Mary Bell and was blown cut into the stream, where she collided with the monitor Cannonicus. The Garry Owen blew her whistle for assistance, which brought the underwriter's tug Tyler, but in coming up the Tyler had so much headway that she knocked a hole in the stern of the Garry Owen, which caused her to fill and sink in a short time. The boat was valued st six thousand dollars, and insured for four thousand.
